

University of Silesia

is pleased to invite to attend

The International Scientific Conference

THE IMPACT OF COVID-19 PANDEMIC ON THE JUSTICE SYSTEM. CASE STUDY AND SUGGESTED SOLUTIONS.

The Conference is organized as part of a project conducted by the University of Silesia Interdisciplinary Center for Judicial Studies financed by NAWA with the same title.

The Conference will be held on May 26-27, 2022 at the University of Silesia in Katowice (first day) and the Jagiellonian University (second day).

The Conference partners are Vilnius University, Law School of the Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv, IAJ ODIHR / OSCE, SPP "Iustitia" and Foundation 'Facultas Iuridica'.

The Conference will be attended by foreign grant partners and experts (Vilnius University, Law School of the Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv, Complutense University in Madrid, University of Bergen).

The Conference will include three thematic sections. On the first day of May 26, 2022 the impact of COVID-19 on the organization and technical functioning of the judiciary, including international courts, and the impact of COVID-19 on the model of civil procedure will be discussed. On the second day of May 27, 2022. the impact of COVID 19 on criminal proceedings will be taken up.

The Conference will be held in English with simultaneous translation into the Polish language. The form of the Conference is hybrid - we invite you to participate in-person or on-line.

Participation in the conference on line is free of charge.

Website and registration form:

<http://bityl.pl/uWjr9>

Facebook:

<https://fb.me/e/21FxH4Bnk>

YouTube transmission (DAY 1):

https://youtu.be/FX3uj9A\_GZg

YouTube transmission (DAY 2):

<https://vimeo.com/event/2072720>

Contact us: icbws@us.edu.pl

